

WHAT IS FAIR USE IN CONTEMPORARY ART? FIND OUT YOUR RIGHTS!

Images Courtesy Stacia Yeapanis

MARYLAND ART PLACE INTERNET COPYRIGHT WORKSHOP PRESENTED WITH MARYLAND LAWYERS FOR THE ARTS

Saturday, March 6, 2-5pm

Artist Stacia Yeapanis shares her experience
Attorney Cynthia Blake Sanders offers advice
Fair Use Do's and Don'ts + Problem-Solving Work Session

The Internet is a vast networking system for artists to deliver images of their work to the public. Internet regulations are meant to protect everyone. However, the law can be an obstacle to contemporary art production. Join us to find out why.

- What's the difference between copyright and trademark?
- Who are the big copyright owners and how do they influence our culture?
- What is public domain and fair use?
- What legislation has the potential to limit artists' work with popular media?
- Why might I need to apply for copyright protection?

This workshop was created especially for MAP's current exhibition, Losing Yourself in the 21st Century. Many of the works on view appropriate ideas and images from popular culture. Find out how the featured artists took creative ownership of their projects. Learn about your rights as an artist.

Artists Bring Examples of Your Work with Appropriated Images!

Free and Open to the Public

Space Limited

Registration Required

map.submissions@gmail.com

